

Guide and Assistance Dogs

Harness Type

- An orange “In Training” coat indicates that the puppy is in training.

- An Autism Assistance Dog wears an orange jacket with text on it to identify it as an Autism Assistance Dog. Autism Assistance Dogs are trained to help improve the quality of life for children diagnosed with Autism and their families.

- A brown harness indicates that the dog is in formal training with a Guide Dog Mobility Instructor.
- A dog in a white harness has completed their training and is working with a Guide Dog handler.

- A Facility Dog wears a black jacket with text on it to identify it as a Facility Dog. Facility Dogs are highly trained dogs that undertake specific, skilled tasks in various situations within a facility environment.
